
Your Invitation

Posted by johnfranklyn - 2008/05/18 09:55

Telford Council Watch would like to extend an invitation to you, your friends and family for our Future Share Holders meeting.

A venue, time and date has now been finalised.

Venue – White Horse Tavern – New Road, Wrockwardine Wood,
(next to Oakengates Leisure Centre)

Date – Wednesday 18th June 2008

Time – 1930hrs for 1945 hrs

Telford Council Watch has certainly become well known throughout the borough and has certainly brought a number of important issues to the fore that otherwise would've been missed.

There are many things that happen behind the scenes of Telford Council Watch that many don't get to see with a number of ideas and projects that are ongoing.

Whilst I will take the opportunity to furnish you with a new insight into Telford Council Watch, I hope to convince you that buying shares in Telford Council Watch is more than just buying into a web site.

The future is in our hands and I believe with the right people, who not only have a few quid to spare, but want to invest in the future, we can and will make a huge difference where it is needed the most.

Telford Council Watch was founded on a firm foundation of giving a voice to the little man, whilst it has certainly rattled a few cages, it has always achieved its aim.

I believe that we can now make a difference to the wider community and inspire a new generation for the benefit of our communities.

I should be able to make that date. It's not a full moon is it? because if it goes on late and Lord Hoop is present I will have to get some garlic to wear around my kneck and a silver cross
